Foreward

To the students and to the faculty of the Lawn Public School of 1953, I extend hearty greetings.

May the years you have spent in Lawn High School, the knowledge you have gained, the ideals you have acquired be a solid foundation for a greater and a fuller life of achievements. Try to make and to use every opportunity where ever you may be, be of real service to your fellow man, affiliate yourself with those institutions and movements that have for their purpose the making of a better society.

Sincerely,

To Mrs. Bettis Lockett, Mrs. Howard Chatham, and Mr. Bob Mansell, a group of three, who have the spirit of co-operation, loyalty, and devotion to Lawn School; for their good deeds of preparing the best food and keeping the best building, we affectionately dedicate this 1953 edition of the LONGHORN.

The pleasing personality of these people has been an inspiration to the student body of Lawn High.

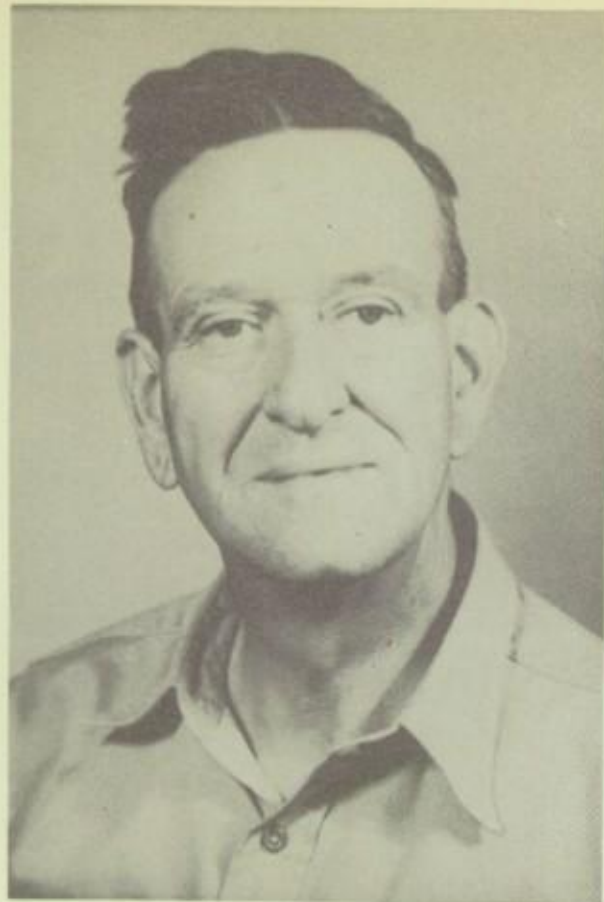

To mention all the good deeds and traits of these people would take pages; therefore we print only these few.

Class History

On September 1, 1941, a group of 14 young children met and were ready to begin their school life. Knowing twelve years later they would go their separate ways. A lot of fussing, fighting, and studying hasn't darkened the days for we have always had a big time together.

Carlene Willis, Melba Dean, Bobby Landers, and J. L. Edwards started and are finishing together. With a few dropping out and a few drifting in, these have stayed to face what came in the future years.

Donald Saverance started with us, but by the second year he had moved away to Novice. Faye Aldridge came drifting in from down Goldsboro way the second year to remain the next ten years. Tommy Smith joined our now happy band in the third year from Spur; he also has lasted the rest of the time.

From that time we had smooth sailing until our freshman year and then the class went apart like wet bread. Geanenne Willis and Nancy Sanders, who started with us, then left us for a happy married life.

During our Sophomore year Fern Willis and Peggy Weeks joined the ranks of marriage. Alvin Edwards had gone to Lawn off and on, but joined us to stay our Sophomore year.

Again, during the Junior year, more of the class who had suffered with us left for marriage; this time it was Juanita Copeland and Yvonne Hudson. Peggy Parsons came from Breckenridge and Donald Saverance from Novice.

We are now leaving Lawn High School a happy class.

Prophecy

As I was touring California in the summer of 1963, some very interesting things happened that I was least expecting.

The climax of it happened one day while I was driving along Industrial Boulevard. I noticed that my gas register showed that my gas was low. I drove into the large, super-service station; the attendant hurried out to the car and without hesitation asked what I needed. To my surprise, it was none other than Alvin (Ape) Edwards.

My first question was to ask him what he was doing there. His answer was that his home was there. He was operating one of his many Chain Stations in California.

As we exchanged greetings, he called Melba from the cozy white cottage just back of the station. In her arms was baby Louise--a darling little blonde and behind her came little Patric, the very image of Alvin.

Melba said that she had just received a letter from Faye. With the letter from Faye came the announcement of her fourth son. She also sent word that Cecil had had a very successful year as head coach at Sul Ross.

A black Cadillac drove in for service. As he honked the horn, I noticed that he was another old classmate, J. L. Edwards. He had his usual smile and welcome. J. L. told us that he had just completed staging his new Musical Hit on Broadway. He was then on his way to Hollywood to star in his first picture, "The Belle of New York."

Melba gave us a hearty invitation to spend a few minutes in her home. There she served us delicious cocktails. J. L. told us he had just seen Bobby Jack in New York. Bobby had just returned from Brazil where he had been working as a Geologist for the Standard Oil Company. J. L. also told us that he had purchased some of the prized royalty in Brazil. It was worth millions.

Just then the postman rang the doorbell and left a letter. Melba opened it and found that it was from Peggy Parsons, who was very angry.

Carlene, whom she had been working and rooming with had fallen in love with their boss and married. They were then on their honeymoon in Europe. Peggy said that she had accepted a job as private secretary to the new Secretary of Agriculture in Texas.

Through curiosity, I asked Melba who the new Secretary of Agriculture was. Alvin said that Donald Saverance had just been appointed to the new position.

The most exciting news climaxed the visit. Melba told me that after all their trials and tribulations in High School, Tommy Smith and Jo Ann Hornbeck finally settled down to a life of tranquility and happiness with a producing orange grove near Bakersfield, California.
